ABOUT US

What makes a good product, depends on how it relates to its customers. We encourage our partners to review products in the light of functions. Some products might function as a must-have in certain weather conditions, such as umbrellas, or sun glasses. Other items may serve as a means of attracting people, the way hats attract couples to come and try them on each other. Or maybe one product might be a candidate for a brand-token, having characteristics ideal for promoting purposes.

Our selection of merchandise has been adapted over time. After decades of experience with numerous insightful partnerships, we are constantly improving our ability to create value for our partners.
